Dear Customer:

Re: Reseller Permit Replacing Resale Certificates

Effective January 1st, 2010, Washington State is replacing the resale certificate with a Reseller Permit. Because of this change the current resale certificates we have on file will not be valid after the end of 2009, and to continue your exempt status EK Beverage Company will need a copy of your Reseller Permit that the Department of Revenue is currently sending all qualified businesses.

Additional information can be found on the Washington Department of Revenue website.

Effective January 1st 2010, EK Beverage Company will charge sales tax to all customers that do not have a current Resellers Permit on file in our office.

Please send, fax or scan a copy of your Reseller Permit to:
